Dear Nomkhita Nqweni

On behalf of the Faculty of Health Sciences I would like to take this opportunity to thank the National Solidarity Fund for its generosity.

It is donations such as these that help the Faculty of Health Sciences fulfill one of its key mandates which is to ensure that teaching and learning happen in a supportive and safe environment for students. The poor availability of personal protective equipment has been a challenge for our students and academic staff. Thanks to your donation our students can continue with their clinical practicals and stay safe on campus.

We were only expecting five thousand four hundred masks instead we received a total of two hundred and seventy thousand 3-ply masks instead. Its moments such as this one that really reignite our passion to continue serving and saving lives. This will serve as additional motivation for us to continue to serve the community and "Pay it forward" in all of our endeavours.

This donation of 3ply surgical masks will help ensure that our students are protected therefore enabling them to continue their development towards becoming #LifeChangers.

We are truly grateful for your support as we continue tackle the COVID-19 pandemic.

Yours sincerely,
